Siti Yuzalmy Yusof Curves Kota Damansara Larian Sawah Padi Tanjong Karang

When it comes to fun runs, I'm all in! After all, it's called a fun run, so you know it's all about keeping things light and easy. I joined the Larian Sawah Padi Tanjong Karang on 1st September 2024. It was just a 7km run, but I decided to embrace the event's theme fully. I rocked up in the traditional baju kurung Kedah, complete with a batik sarong and a batik selendang. How's that for festive flair?

I finished the run in a leisurely 2 hours and 19 minutes. Why so long, you ask? Well, it turns out the run was more like a culinary adventure! Each checkpoint was a treasure trove of tasty treats – think fried tempeh, curry puffs, kuih koci, and crispy fried chicken. Naturally, we took our time to sample these treats and have a good chat with fellow runners.

At one of the checkpoints, I bumped into the Corvette crew from Wangsa Maju and Bangi Sentral – impossible to miss in their bright Curves Fitness Party t-shirts! We even got to groove to a live band at another checkpoint – yes, we totally busted some moves!

To cap off the incredible adventure, we reached a checkpoint serving fresh coconut water straight from the village. It was the perfect, refreshing finale to an unforgettable run!

Nurhidayu Abdul Rahman Curves Kota Damansara I Made It Happen!

On 21 July 2024, I did something a little crazy – I joined a 21km run (Score Marathon). It was my first time participating in a half marathon! Previously, I only had the confidence to tackle 5km and 10km distances. I'm still not sure where all that confidence came from to jump into a half marathon, but as the event approached, doubts started creeping in. I even thought about pulling out because I wasn't sure I could do it.

But thanks to my amazing coaches – Coach Muhaini, Coach Adibah, and Coach Komathy – and my fantastic crew, the "Sik Fan" gang, who rallied around me with encouragement, I decided to go for it! On race day, I pushed aside thoughts about my pace; my only mission was to prove myself that I could finish before the cutoff time.

And guess what? I did it! I completed the run in 2 hours and 55 minutes! I was exhausted, but my emotions were all over the place – tears of joy were definitely on the horizon as I crossed that finish line. Alhamdulillah, I didn't face any injuries during the run!

Now, I'm ready to take on the next challenge: a full marathon! So, ladies, don't give up or doubt yourselves. Don't get too caught up in your pace; focus on what you can do. Let's keep pushing our limits together!

Coach Muhaini Ishak, Coach Aisyah Che Ayub & Norhaniza Ishak Curves Kota Damansara & Curves Bandar Utama We came, we saw and we conquered!

In a world where women rise to new challenges, our story – Kak Nieza, Coach Muhaini, and Coach Aisyah – embodies the strength, resilience, and sisterhood that connects us all. Our journey to Gunung Ledang was more than a hike; it was a testament to the empowerment we achieve when we pursue our goals.

Kak Nieza, a passionate hiker, had a dream of conquering Gunung Ledang, famous for its endless steps and steep terrain. When she discovered that Muhaini shared this enthusiasm, excitement sparked between them. They eagerly decided to invite Coach Aisyah, our dedicated fitness buddy, who was ready to take on the challenge alongside us!

With Merdeka Day approaching, we set our sights on waving the Malaysian flag at the peak. We trained hard for two months, tackling stair workouts to prepare for the demanding Sagil route, a popular day-hike option. But don't be fooled by the label. This trail featured seven gruelling checkpoints, each with its own set of challenges.

On the day of the hike, which happened to be Merdeka Day, we arrived at Taman Negara Johor bright and early, ready for adventure. At 8 a.m., our journey began, and we quickly faced the grueling 736 steps. The real test came between Checkpoint 5 and Checkpoint 6, as we confronted the Batu Hampar section which required full-body strength to pull ourselves up, and it was the ultimate test of both our physical fitness and mental fortitude.

Reaching the peak at 1,276 metres was surreal. With strong winds around us, we proudly waved the Jalur Gemilang, celebrating not only our country's independence but our own as women pushing past our limits.

After a restful break in a serene spot with fresh mountain water and facilities, we made our way down, determined to finish before the 6 p.m. cut-off. By 5:30 p.m., we'd successfully returned, one of the fastest groups of the day.

To top it off, we were awarded certificates from Taman Negara, a tangible reminder of our accomplishment.

This journey wasn't just about climbing a mountain—it was about embracing challenges, fostering sisterhood, and celebrating the strength that lies within every woman. Gunung Ledang represented life's uphill battles—through preparation, resilience, and support, we can reach remarkable heights.

So, to every woman reading this—take on your own Gunung Ledang, whether personal, professional, or physical. You have the power to conquer it, and don't forget to bring others along for the journey. Together, we can rise!
